Ohio College Bill Passed by Senate 20-18

Measure To Revise Compensation Law Also Is Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The community college bill, which most people thought was dead and buried, has come back to life. Not only that, it has successfully completed half its trip through the legislature.

In a major upset of this session, Senate minority Democrats brought the community college measure out of limbo Wednesday and substituted it for a bill authorizing locally financed and controlled post-high school technical training institutes.

Joined By Republicans

Twenty votes are needed to pass a bill in the Ohio Senate, and Democrats got just that many. This was because they were joined by Republicans Kline L. Roberts and Richard B. Metcalf, both of Franklin County, and Charles Whalen of Montgomery County.

One of the 18 Democratic senators (There are 20 Republicans), J. Sherman Porter of Gallia County, voted against substitution-by-amendment. The final count was 20-18.

But Democrats were able to gain only one victory in a long battle before the Senate passed a bill which sponsors say should shield Ohio's workmen's compensation fund from claims by those not truly injured.

The bill to revise the workmen's compensation law passed 22-16. Democrats Julius J. Petrash of Cuyahoga County and John C. Smith of Montgomery voted with the 20 Republican senators.

Approval By A Whisker

The sole Democratic triumph in that floor battle was to get approval, by a whisker, 20-18, of an amendment deleting one provision. It would have prevented anyone but a lawyer from representing someone making a claim for workmen's compensation.

Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek, D-Cuyahoga, an attorney, offered the amendment.

Those who favored retaining the provision—but lost — say laymen

Cuba Offers Captives for Bulldozers

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has offered to trade more than 1,000 prisoners of the April 17 invasion for 500 American bulldozers.

The startling sword-for-plowshares offer Wednesday night evoked wild cheers from several thousand peasants assembled at the rancho boyeros agricultural fair near Havana.

If the prisoners are not ransomed, Castro said, "they will work hard, building trenches and fortifications, so that they will have to earn the bread they eat."

Referring to President Kennedy — whom the Cubans have charged with direct responsibility for the invasion—Castro said: "If they are his friends and he loves them so much, let him send 500 bulldozers and we will send them back." He added that captives charged with committing crimes during the Fulgencio Batista regime would not be returned under any circumstances.

Earlier, Castro told his audience that "agricultural production must be increased at all costs."

Dwelling at length on Cuba's shortage of pork and pork products, he said, "Every pig that we have must be preserved and fattened. Let us put off for a while those pig roasts we all like so much."

Castro then added that "Napoleon tried to exchange prisoners for swine, but we want to be more polite to the Yankee imperialists."

Military Junta Wins

Korea's Premier, Cabinet Quit Posts

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Premier John M. Chang and his Cabinet resigned today and the military emerged triumphant in a revolt they said would put new life into South Korea's battle against corruption, poverty and communism.

The 61-year-old elected premier's bow-out gave a stamp of legality to the coup led by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, 38, army chief of staff.

Name 30 Man Committee

Leaders of the revolution immediately named a 30-man committee of military figures to run the country. It was headed by Gen. Chang with Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, considered the mastermind of the uprising, as No. 2 man. Chiefs of all the other armed forces were included.

Lt. Gen. Kim Chong-oh, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was listed as the third-ranking official of the new regime, followed by Lt. Gen. Park Lim-hang, who earlier was reported to have replaced Lt. Gen. Lee Han-lim as commander of the powerful 1st Field Army.

The replacement of Lee was not officially confirmed, but well-placed military sources said he had been ousted because he did not back the coup from the start. Lee, commanding on the critical armistice border with North Korea, at first took a neutral stand toward the coup and only came out in support of it early today.

Deposed Premier Chang accepted full "moral and political responsibility" for the two-day

Attack on Reds' Plan for Laos Set by West

Big 3 Delegates Hold Strategy Talks At French Villa

GENEVA (AP) — American, British and French delegates today decided on a concerted attack against veto provisions in Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's plan for a neutral Laos.

The Western Big Three held a strategy session at French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville's villa attended by Britain's Foreign Secretary Lord Home and U.S. Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman.

Sat In For Rusk

Harriman sat in for Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who traveled to Bern to pay his respects to President Fritz Wahlen and Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre.

Gromyko submitted two documents Wednesday to the three-day-old conference.

One was a general declaration that would bind all the conferring powers to respect Laotian neutrality. Western authorities feel this Soviet draft can be reconciled with their own ideas if certain amendments can be made.

The second was a 13-point draft agreement setting up international peace-making machinery inside Laos. This plan was laden with veto provisions that would allow the Soviet bloc to thwart the peace-making process.

The general impressions of delegates seemed to be that little real headway is likely to be made pending the outcome of President Kennedy's expected talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev June 3 and 4.

Leave For Home Friday

Rusk, Lord Home, Couve de Murville and Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon plan to leave for home Friday. Deputies will be left in charge. The Communist ministers are expected to stay awhile as a public demonstration of their readiness to go on talking here indefinitely.

A French spokesman said: "All delegations are so much in agreement on the general objectives of the conference we could go home tomorrow if it weren't for the means of reaching these objectives. There are considerable differences of opinion on them."

Gromyko outlined his package plan after Rusk proposed a three-point program designed to take Laos out of the cold war: (1) a definition of neutrality for the HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A berserk mental patient stabbed to death a nurse and an orderly in a locked hospital ward Wednesday night and then stabbed four more persons.

Police shot and captured him as he sang hymns and quoted from the Bible.

Ted Bowen, administrator of Methodist Hospital, identified the patient as Charles E. White, 36, a machine operator.

Dead were Gladys Lucile Foreman, 49, whose throat was cut, and James Newton, who was stabbed in the chest and stomach. Injured were Anne Porter, 21, a student nurse, cut on the throat; Ruth Gordon, 62, nurse, stabbed in the chest and stomach; Edna Fuller, 45, medical supervisor, stabbed in the stomach; and Otto Voigt, 54, a patient, stabbed in the lower back. Announcement of Big 2 Confab Expected Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official announcement of a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Vienna June 3 and 4 is expected before the end of the week. Authorities indicate the announcement will be made Friday.

Administration officials said

President Kennedy wants to discuss informally with Soviet Premier Khrushchev a wide range of cold war problems with heavy emphasis on his belief in the urgent need for agreement on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests.

Returning today from a visit to Canada, Kennedy now has about 10 days in which to prepare for the meeting and for conferences with French President Charles de Gaulle at Paris May 31-June 2.

The White House and State Department were formally silent on completion of arrangements for the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting. But a number of developments Wednesday gave support to reports Kennedy and Khrushchev have substantially agreed to get together.

At Ottawa, White House news secretary Pierre Salinger disclosed that Kennedy had discussed the prospective Khrushchev meeting with Prime Minister

Cite Need for Controls Over Laos Peace

Kennedy Ends Visit On Note of Warning To Red Aggressors

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker agreed today that the Castro dictatorship in Cuba threatens both "the peaceful and democratic evolution" of Latin America.

In a communique issued before Kennedy headed back to Washington, the U.S. and Canadian leaders also said effective control machinery will be essential to achieve peace and stability in Laos and the rest of Southeast Asia.

Issue Statement of Arms

Kennedy and Diefenbaker concluded the survey of their two-day conversations with this broad statement of common aims: "To banish the scourge of war, to improve the human lot, to defend and to enlarge the area of freedom, to assist peoples less privileged than our own — these are aims that bind together Canada and the United States and which, with other allies and friends, our two countries will, jointly and steadfastly, pursue."

Kennedy ended his first state visit on a note of warning for Red aggressors and of challenge the North Atlantic allies to strengthen the security of the free world. He had held out those objectives in a speech to Parliament Wednesday.

In that same address he called for Canada to step up its contributions to the welfare of underdeveloped Latin-American nations and join the Organization of American States.

No Reference to Appeal

The communique made no direct reference to this appeal. It said Kennedy and Diefenbaker discussed the need for accelerating economic progress and social reform as well as strengthening the Western Hemisphere trend away from dictatorship and toward democracy. These objectives are closely related, it added.

"They were in accord that the alignment of a regime in the Western Hemisphere with Communist leadership abroad was a matter for serious concern, threatening as it did the peaceful and democratic evolution of the Latin American peoples," it said.

Diefenbaker assured Kennedy of Canada's "continued and increasing interest in inter-American affairs."

The statement referring to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro was something Kennedy had sought in his trip to Ottawa—his first outside the United States since his inauguration. Canada previously had exhibited less concern than the United States over the potential menace, of Castro's link with the Soviet Union, to the entire Western Hemisphere.

As to the call to strengthen the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's conventional and nuclear power, the two leaders said: "It is more than ever necessary that the strength and unity of NATO be reinforced."

They omitted any mention of specific increases by Canada or other NATO governments to the alliance's defense forces, but did assert that a strong defense must be maintained until "effective

Canadians Take Jackie To Heart

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — A First Lady only four months, 31-year-old Jacqueline Kennedy scored a major triumph here on her first state visit abroad.

Flying back to Washington today, she had the acclaim of top Canadian officials and the man in the street. She had been applauded in parliament and by thousands of others.

And, if Canada was a sample, it was predicted Mrs. Kennedy's appeal during a visit to Paris late this month may be even greater.

She "has conquered all of our hearts," was the way the speaker of Canada's senate, Mark Drouin, summed it up.

And Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker told Parliament people in the streets of Ottawa had greeted Mrs. Kennedy with "a special glow of warmth."

The President and Mrs. Kennedy wound up the major program of their two-day visit to Ottawa at a party they gave Wednesday night in honor of their official hosts in the picturesque setting of the U.S. Embassy overlooking the Ottawa and Gatineau rivers.

Mrs. Kennedy was reported exhausted after a long day of sight-seeing and ceremony. But she and the President stayed at the party until 11:05 p.m.

Boy Hit by Transit Car Seriously Hurt

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Go back and get my leg," 10-year-old Martin Katz—in state of shock—shouted to police after he was knocked beneath a Shaker Rapid Transit car in suburban Shaker Heights Wednesday.

Actually, neither of the boy's legs was severed, but he was in very serious condition after 5½ hours in surgery at St. Luke's Hospital.

The boy had stood too close to the edge of a platform at Coventry Station. He was waiting with other newspaper carriers at the rapid stop, where the bundles are dropped off.

A westbound two-car train approached at seven miles an hour, police reported. The front car struck Martin a glancing blow witnesses said, spinning him around and under the first half of the car.

Motorman Fred L. Hurley immediately applied the brakes full force. Twenty or thirty passengers and passersby tried to pull the youngster free.

A police squad unit jacked the rapid car off the track to free the boy. He was trapped about 15 minutes.

Hecklers Break Up Harlem Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of Negro hecklers broke up a Harlem rally Wednesday night marking the seventh anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling.

The hecklers, demanding an end to what they called Negro pacifism, shouted down speaker after speaker — including Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

A clergyman, the Rev. Thomas Kilgore Jr., was struck in the chest by an egg as he began the benediction. He paused momentarily, then completed the prayer.

The agitators demanded that one of their number, Robert Williams, be allowed to speak. The heckling stopped when Williams took the rostrum.

Williams described himself as a suspended member of the NAACP chapter in Monroe, N.C. He said he was ousted in 1959 because "I advocated Afro-American men should defend their women and children."

Williams said the NAACP was a pacifist organization, adding: "We are not pacifists and we do not attempt to turn the other cheek. I am tired of being oppressed. I am going to meet violence with violence."

Houlette Elected By Dairymen's Unit

Carey A. Houlette of Columbiana was elected vice president of the Dairymen's Co-Operative Sales Association at the meeting of the board of directors earlier this week in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Houlette was recently re-elected to the board of the DCSA representing members in District "E." The 403 members from District "E" are mostly in Columbiana and Mahoning Counties with a few in Carroll and Jefferson Counties. Milk produced by these members goes to Youngstown, East Liverpool and East Rochester where milk is used to supply Pittsburgh. The DCSA is composed of some 5,800 milk producers in the tri-state area.

As a result of this election, Mr. Houlette will begin his fifth three-year term as director. He is the president of the American Dairy Association of Ohio and secretary of the American Dairy Association.

At the same meeting Mrs. Vern C. Wehr was re-elected District Auxiliary Representative. At the reorganization of the Association-wide Auxiliary Representatives, Mrs. Wehr was re-elected secretary of the group.

S. B. Wells, New England, W. Va., dairyman, was chosen president of the Dairymen's Co-Operative Sales Association.

Milt Bolling, brother of Milwaukee second baseman Frank Bolling, is an executive assistant with the Boston Red Sox.

Anderson Favored To Be Tapped for Top Navy Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy speculation about who will be tapped as the new chief of naval operations focused today on Vice Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., dynamic commander of the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The White House is expected to act soon to nominate a replacement for Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, whose third two-year term as CNO expires Aug. 1.

Speculation also centered on Adm. James S. Russell, Burke's second in command, and Vice Adm. John T. Hayward, the Navy development chief.

Another possibility is Adm. Harry D. Felt, peppery commander of the 7th Fleet and chief of all U.S. military and naval operations in the Pacific. But with Southeast Asia, and now Korea, in crisis, it was thought Felt would be left where he is.

Some Navy sources said the "smart money" was on Anderson, 54, a tall handsome aviator who, since the fall of 1959, has directed the powerful fleet units patrolling waters near the volatile Middle East.

Brooklyn-born Anderson has been a career officer for nearly 34 years. An Annapolis product, he is described as an athletic type, about 6 feet 2 with piercing blue eyes and iron-gray hair.

Some of Anderson's former associates said he long has been marked for big things—they note he became a vice admiral at 50, one of the youngest men to reach three-star Navy rank.

The Elephant And the Giraffe

Even the bushiest - tailed optimists who once looked forward confidently to summit meetings know now what is wrong with them.

They always add up to the same thing. Governments that wonder what the Soviet Union will do next come to summit meetings to try to find out. Mostly they don't find out what they want to know.

The Communist party strong men who run the Soviet Union have learned it is more frightening for their opponents to be left in suspense than to spell out for them what is in the works. Imagination is worse than reality and it doesn't cost anything.

THERE IS TALK again of another summit meeting, and whenever there's talk there's fire. Not only is it desirable to sound out U.S. opinion on these meetings but it is important to create an air of U.S. expectation. Otherwise, relations with the Soviet Union might as well be carried on the way President Kennedy said they should be carried on when he was a candidate — through the machinery of the State Department.

This is one more thing President Kennedy has learned since he took office. The machinery of the State Department is exasperatingly slow and disturbingly quiet. It leaves the impression nothing is being done, whereas a president of the United States wants to leave the impression that much is being done.

There will be, then, in all probability another summit meeting.

IT WILL BE like a meeting of the elephant and giraffe, with the other animals watching the proceedings and invited to give inklings of which side they would be on if the elephant and giraffe got into a fight.

The trouble with such a meeting is that the elephant always gets what it wants because it knows what it wants and is mean enough to scare off all would-be antagonists.

The giraffe is big, too, but a giraffe doesn't want anything but peace. It wants to negotiate with the other animals about peace. In a manner of speaking, it wants a summit conference in the jungle on the supposition that if it and the elephant can agree the other animals will not be able to start anything.

But the giraffe and the elephant never are going to agree on anything, because the elephant never will rest until all the other animals are so small no one looks up to them, which means there is no future for the giraffe.

AS FOR SUMMIT conferences, the elephant loves them. They always show how big he is and how everybody else wants to know what he is planning to do, whereas the other animals have no plans, except to try to keep the elephant from going on a rampage.

After what happened in Paris the last time, when the elephant tipped over everything in sight, even the giraffe can't feel optimistic about the prospect of another summit conference. But the giraffe wants peace, and only the elephant could insure peace.

Now, As Soon As We Give It An Engine Tune-Up...

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

There could come a moment this summer when our seaports, our gulf ports, our rivers, our lakes and even our rail depots, their freight yards and sidings, could be clogged by a sprawling strike of those who sail for their daily bread.

It could come any time after June 15. It could break for any combination of 50 reasons.

It would hand President Kennedy his first really tough labor crisis—for it would paralyze 90 per cent of the nation's freighters, luxury liners, tankers and river craft.

Essential military cargo would move—but that's all. And that's all because one man—respected because his militancy matches his personal honesty, his sense of strategy matches his personal bravery—Paul Hall by name, leader of the Seafarers International Union (SIU) by profession, has meticulously woven together virtually all seagoing men and those who make possible the loading and sailing of ships.

If the crisis breaks out, Paul Hall will lead a combination of nine units covering 130,000 men, ranging from cooks to skippers, from longshoremen to able-bodied seamen, from ship engineers to teamsters.

FORMALLY and otherwise, this combination is in the six-month-old National Committee for Maritime Bargaining—which on April 6 sent notes to the ship operators saying let's begin bargaining. Before this communication went out, it should be noted, Paul Hall's Seafarers International Union formally affiliated with the Railway Labor Executives Association, a joint committee of leaders of 23 "on train" and maintenance crafts.

Its members supported the SIU in the New York harbor tugboat strike during the very hours of President Kennedy's inauguration—and shut down two lines as far as New England and Cleveland. And they were about to hit the Pennsylvania when the new President asked them to return. They did.

This summer, as last winter, the sailors—acting separately from Joe Curran's National Maritime Union membership, which is not in the national committee—are not too much concerned with money matters.

What concerns the national committee, says its leaders, is the fact that there are only a thousand ships now flying the American flag.

SEVEN OR EIGHT years ago the figure was "several thousand." Within a few years, they say, it may be less than 500.

So now come the national committee leaders and say to the ship (and tanker) owners, we want to help you revitalize the industry.

You want it automated, you want the government to continue to subsidize you with hundreds of millions of dollars, you want more efficiency to meet foreign competition. We want to become your partners in formulating industry policy on many matters before there is no industry.

This, in effect, is what John L. Lewis once said to the dying coal industry. The coal operators agreed. The mines were mechanized. Lewis went to the White House and fought for both sides. This, in effect, is what Paul

Hall and his colleagues are saying they want to do in shipping, for example, for both sides. The owners want more. The union wants more guarantees as well as more control consoles.

THE U.S. MARITIME Administration and the Norwegian Marine Technical Research Institute, for example, are working on automatic navigation functions—such as automatic position plotting, control of course and speed, communications, evaluation of weather and one central control room for the deck and engine room watch. Jobs would be eliminated.

This, in an industry where seaporters now are run by 40 sailors compared with the one hundred of old.

There is the problem of competition from the U.S. Military Sea Transport Service.

Hall and his group say they have ideas for attracting new business and reworking trade routes.

If you want all this, say Hall and his colleagues to the industry, bring back the hundreds of ships you have transferred to other flags—that is, registered with other nations whose sailors are paid far less.

Of all this the industry is wary. It is about as enthused over the partnership proposal as John Kennedy is over Dick Nixon's latest speaking tour.

The ship owners may well say to Hall and the national committee: You stick to arguing about wages and hours and working conditions; industry problems are our concern. If so, there will be a strike. If so, after a while no boat will sail and very little will be moved off a dock or a depot. Hall and his committee did it once. They can do it again.

School Aid Up In Air

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Mixup Over Legalities Is Extensive

The whole federal aid-to-education program, even as it affects public schools, is up in the air now so far as constitutionality is concerned.

The Supreme Court of the United States, by announcing this week its refusal to review a decision by the highest court of the State of Vermont that David Lawrence has barred tuition grants for students in sectarian schools, tends to cast doubt on the constitutionality of even such measures as the "GI Bill of Rights."

Likewise, a decision rendered just 30 days ago by a circuit court in Dade County, Florida, sets forth a principle that makes it doubtful whether even public schools where Christmas or Easter celebrations or Bible readings take place — a widespread practice throughout the United States — will be eligible for federal-aid grants or loans.

The Supreme Court of the United States, it is expected, will be asked to review this case after the highest court in Florida passes on it.

It doesn't seem to make any difference that a particular form of religion is not actually taught in a school or that a student has the opportunity to decline to participate in these celebrations or to attend the Bible readings for in the Vermont case, where there were no public high schools in a certain school district and the only educational institutions available were Catholic high schools, the Vermont Supreme Court decision of Jan. 3, 1961, described the situation there as follows:

"There is no requirement that students of other denominations attend the instruction in religion although some students in this category have elected to do so."

Notwithstanding this option, the Vermont court ruled that tax funds may not be used to pay tuition in a church-related school even where there is no public school in the area to serve the pupils. The court held that to do so would violate the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the federal Constitution.

It has been argued by able lawyers that, because of a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1923 denying a taxpayer the right to sue the federal government in connection with the purposes for which it appropriates money, there could be no court case now to test the constitutionality of legislation for the use of federal funds to aid education.

But Congress itself can provide for the right to sue, and President Kennedy has intimated that he would not be averse to court tests.

CERTAINLY the administration has not hesitated to undertake the unprecedented role of "intervenor" in the case of Prince Edward County, Virginia, where the parents of students are given tuition grants to help educate their children in private schools.

Indeed, the question is of broad significance, because the U. S. Census Bureau is authority for the statement that more than half of the 2,429 public school systems in the United States did not provide any secondary education in 1960.

Hence, private schools and religious schools have borne much of the burden, and if no aid can be given by tuition grants to the parents in these 21,646 school systems, this whole plan becomes of doubtful effectiveness and more public schools will have to be built.

Also New York State's latest plan for tuition grants now becomes open to debate on the constitutional issue and so does the National Defense Education Act which provides federal aid to private and parochial schools for the equipment of laboratories to teach science, mathematics and modern languages.

Congress is engaged right now in arranging for more federal aid of various kinds to sectarian as well as public colleges, universities and high schools.

THE THEORY of the legislators who are writing these laws is that, if Congress designates a "special purpose," this removes any constitutional objection. Thus, it is argued, if the purpose is national defense — to educate more scientists so as to compete with the Soviet Union — then it's constitutional.

There can be no higher or more important "special purpose" than secondary school education. If the mere fact that religion may be taught in the same building disqualifies that institution from receiving federal funds, then the school, whether it be public or private, cannot offer persuasively the excuse of a "special purpose."

In fact, the U. S. Department of Justice is endeavoring to become today an active participant in a suit in the federal court to require the closing of the public schools in all counties of the State of Virginia — whether integrated or segregated — unless the state closes down a private school in Prince Edward County which is being supported by state grants of funds to parents or students.

Many observers are wondering why the Supreme Court of the United States refused to review the Vermont case but it may be that this is because the highest court in the land has in the past contradicted itself several times.

THE PRECEDENTS are by no means clear cut. Thus, in 1930 the Supreme Court ruled that state tax money could be appropriated to supply free textbooks to private schools, including sectarian schools.

Also in 1908 the court, in the case of Catholic mission schools on Indian reservations, rejected the argument that the spirit of the Constitution required that the federal government "shall make no appropriation for education in any sectarian schools."

The mixup over legalities is so extensive that about the only way out is for Congress to pass whatever aid-to-education legislation it pleases and provide at the same time for a review by the federal courts of the constitutionality of such legislation.

New York Herald Tribune

From Our Readers

Defends County Home Head

As a citizen and a taxpayer, I have a right to know what conditions prevail at the County Home and to express my opinion about them. As a trustee of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, it is not only my right but also my duty to keep myself informed on what transpires there. Our Association solicits contributions from the public. Part of these funds have been used and, I believe, will continue to be used, to make life a little more pleasant for the inmates of the County Home. This, we hope, will help maintain or improve their mental health.

Our investigation of conditions at the Home in 1959 brought to light some shocking revelations. However, everything we found unfavorable had been brought on gradually through many years of neglect. Everything we encountered that could be considered favorable or good was of recent origin. The most heartening discovery we made was that our County Home was being supervised by a man and wife whom we found to be courteous, humane, efficient and above all honest in their cooperation with us. We most certainly listed Mr. and Mrs. Russell Phillips under the heading of "Assets."

Since then I have made it my business to keep informed on the many improvements that are being made at the Home through the tireless efforts of Mr. Phillips. In his firm determination to better the living conditions of the people there, he has frequently encountered official opposition. Usually, this opposition has come from County Commissioner Frank Wilson.

Speaking only for myself, I feel that Commissioner Wilson has no right to place in jeopardy the welfare of the inmates of the County Home while conducting his one-man campaign of vindictive harassment against Mr. Phillips. While it is true that he "ranks" Mr. Phillips in the County government, he does so only as part of a three-man commission. When he takes it upon himself to act unilaterally and without the full approval of at least one other Commissioner in his interference with the rules of the Home as laid down by Mr. Phillips, he is clearly in the wrong. If he is convinced of the rightness of his attitude let him proceed in an orderly way by prevailing on the Board of Commissioners to act.

In this cynical age of widespread contempt for the value of the taxpayer's dollar we are fortunate indeed to have secured the services of public servants of the calibre of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips. I sincerely hope that Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will find the courage to withstand Mr. Wilson's personal animosity until such time as aroused public indignation will cause him to desist.

Time For Some Trouble Makers

It appears the time is ripe to steal a page from the Communist handbook and ferment a little trouble on the Chinese mainland.

A multitude of reports from Red China verify that the government has it hands full trying to get enough food for the population. As a result, bitterness against the regime is running high.

Since the feeling persists that the Peiping government won't collapse, it might be well to send some well-trained troublemakers from Formosa to the mainland to increase and help spread the growing unrest.

The free world has been worrying for several years about gaining the offensive against the Red menace so perhaps the best way is to put the Communists on the defensive in their own bailiwicks.

Chiang Kai-shek certainly would be receptive to the idea of secreting some of his stalwarts on the mainland. A secret pipeline sending foodstuffs to the mainland would do more good than sending guns and ammunition.

With food to gain support of small groups,

Preston's Promises

State Highway Director Everett S. Preston yesterday reassured Salem interests on two projects—the planned relocation of U.S. Rt. 62 and the proposed West State St. overpass.

Concerning Rt. 62, Mr. Preston reiterated statements which he made through official spokesmen at a county-wide meeting April 12 that the merits of the proposal for relocating the highway south of Salem will be reviewed thoroughly before any final decision is made.

Concerning the W. State St. overpass, which Mayor Dean Cranmer is pushing, Mr. Preston admitted that the volume of traffic makes the crossing separation worthy of consideration.

The efforts of Columbiana County Democratic Chairman Don Gosney to focus attention on the Rt. 62 project and Director Preston's statements on both propositions are appreciated. All that's needed now is for words to be transformed into deeds.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Newt" Minow (What a name for a man fighting whales!) has made the sharpest attack on TV in history. But he had better have somebody "riding shotgun" on the "Cleanup Stagecoach" in his drive across the prairies.

He rightfully declares war on calibre of programs and rides into the scene like Fearless Frank the heroic cowboy but he will need cavalry, faithful Injuns and some town marshals to win battle of what he calls the "Vast wastelands" of TV.

He stalked into the barroom of TV Territory at the broadcasters convention, hands close to his six-shooters and the glare of Doc Holiday in eyes as he said "Throw down your weapons and do what I say." But our bet is that he will need thousands of Doc Holidays to get out alive.

This fight could wind up as a situation comedy, another airwave prize contest, a battle at the crossroads or a shrill screeching of auto tires as the Federal Private Eye goes all out but is balked at every turn.

We may even witness "To Tell The Truth" show with three characters, a strawman, convention orator and FCC chief coming before panel with the challenge "which is the real Newton Minow?"

But if it is more like a western with a coach roaring into town, let's hope it is the FCC chief and not a New England schoolman who gets out.

Mr. Minow blasts TV as a "parade of games, comedies about totally incredible people, gangsters, cowboys, murder, sadism and endless commercials."

He tells broadcasters "Your trust accounting is overdue. Never have so few owed so much to so many." He doesn't mention fact that most of shows couldn't be orgies of violence if big industries didn't pay the freight.

Corporation biggies who often serve on anti-juvenile crime boards, boys clubs and civic betterment bodies make possible the pumping of murder routines into American homes. Their performance in fact is "mystery show of year."

STUDENTS who defied air-raid orders in N.Y. got long jail terms. Our guess is they would establish new world sprint records if caught out in real bombing.

Russian dental expert says American dentistry is less painful. Perhaps Soviet dentist says, "Yanks yes; pain killer no."

Naming one or two women "Mother of Year" is absurd. They are legion and fill every hamlet, city and state. The ones who carry on against the heaviest burdens, suffering and nearly broke, are innumerable but rarely get mentioned.

Gov. Rockefeller gave President Kennedy some "fallout" or survival, biscuits. Up to now he hasn't come through with fallout bagels or knishes.

Yves St. Laurent has sued Dior asking $140,000 damages for breach of contract when not given back his job upon release from army. Here we could see each side represented in court by female models acting as attorneys.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: That was a pretty strange answer you gave to the mother whose signature was "Worn Out."

She wrote that her child was destructive—broke furniture, knocked plaster off the wall and tore up everything he got his hands on. She couldn't take him to the homes of friends or relatives unless she virtually chained him to the porch. You told her the child sounded disturbed and suggested that she take him to a specialist.

In this day and age it seems stylish to treat every personality irregularity as a symptom of emotional illness. It's downright fashionable to be in treatment. Did it ever occur to you that the child might just need something to bang on?

The minister of our church plays the xylophone beautifully. If he hadn't entered the clergy he could make an excellent living as a professional musician.

He has often said that his musical training was the result of his destructiveness as a child. He, too, tore up everything in sight. His parents decided he needed something to pound on—so they bought him a xylophone.

The instrument is fairly expensive but it's a lot cheaper than a psychiatrist. Why not recommend it to more "Worn Out Mothers?" —L.A. READER.

Dear Reader: Thanks for an interesting letter. Others wrote along the same lines. One father said his son was an incorrigible until he bought him a set of drums. Others had similar success with accordions.

Xylophones, drums and accordions may serve as useful outlets for aggressions but when a mother writes that the child is excessively destructive, punitive to other children and that discipline doesn't make a dent, I suggest a specialist. If the doctor recommends music lessons that's fine with me. But I recommend a doctor.

Practical Advice

Dear Ann: Please skip the fairy tales and give me some practical advice.

I'm a woman 52 years of age but could pass for 45. I've been married to two no-good loafers, so I know what it's like to work two jobs at once.

I'm going with a widower who has no family ties, a steady job and makes fair money. He's crazy about me and will marry me whenever I say. The truth is he's pleasant but boring.

I know I can make him happy and all I want out of the marriage is somebody to take care of me for a change and a nice car to drive. He lets me use his car whenever I want it, and it's a pleasure not to have to take buses. What do you say?—MRS. EX.

Dear Mrs. Ed: Would you stick around if someone stole his car and he got sick and YOU had to go to work to take care of HIM? Think about it for awhile. It could happen.

Born in Salem, Nov. 17, 1959, he was the son of John and Norita Barnes McGuire.

Besides his parents, he leaves a sister, Margaret Lynne, and a brother, James Carroll, at home; his grandparents, Mrs. John McGuire of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barnes of RD 4, Salem; and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Carroll Beck of Salem.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

Korea

crisis in which American officials in Korea unsuccessfully backed his government.

Coming out of hiding to capitulate, he made a plea for the closing of ranks and international support of the new regime.

"There must be no more bloodshed," he told newsmen after resigning. "We must strengthen our anti-Communist stand and we must seek international support."

As his last act he issued a retroactive proclamation of martial law, confirming a similar order issued by Gen. Chang Tuesday shortly after his forces took over Seoul. The intent appeared to be to strengthen the technical legality of the military takeover.

After calling on President Yun Po-sun, Chang went home, describing himself as "once more just a plain citizen." But it was not clear whether he was free to move around.

Ten Cabinet ministers who resigned "en masse" with him were also freed to go home. Five ministers were still in hiding and failed to respond to a call from the revolutionary leaders to the showdown meeting with the junta that preceded the cabinet resignation.

For the moment there was no comment from the U.S. Embassy or the State Department in Washington.

Washington had adopted an official hands-off policy toward the coup after American officials here came out in open support of the elected parliamentary government.

Slayer of 2 Policemen Kills Self

BOSTON (AP) — A desperate gunman hunted widely for two slayings of law officers put a bullet into his brain Wednesday night as police stormed his hideout in a fashionable Back Bay apartment house.

Edgar W. Cook, 48, less than two years out of Alcatraz, where he served a 14-year sentence for a post office robbery, died in a hospital 2½ hours later.

Police said he killed himself with the same tiny .25-caliber pistol with which he killed David S. Robinson, 53, warden of the Middlesex County jail, in escaping from that Cambridge institution Sunday noon.

Norman A. Porter Jr., 21, his companion in escape, remained at large.

Both Cook and Porter were held on murder charges. Cook was to have gone on trial Monday for killing a Cambridge policeman last September. The officer had surprised him attempting to break into a restaurant.

Porter was awaiting trial for killing a clothing store clerk in an attempted holdup at Saugus.

An informant frankly eager for a $5,000 reward posted by Middlesex County Sheriff Howard W. Fitzgerald telephoned the sheriff shortly after 6 o'clock and told him Cook was hiding in a third-floor apartment close to Kenmore Square.

At 9:20 a five-man squad led by Deputy Police Supt. Joseph J. Cummings and Cambridge Police Chief Daniel J. Brennan slipped out of an unmarked car a block away.

The officers heard a shot when they reached the apartment door. When they crashed through the door they found Cook sprawled on the floor, bleeding heavily, the tiny pistol beside him.

Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, who won the approval for the shift from just technical institutes to community colleges, said of the workmen's compensation changes: "There is nothing in this bill to help the injured worker."

Bids Are Opened on E. Palestine Boiler

EAST PALESTINE — Bids were opened Wednesday at City Hall on a boiler for the municipal light plant. The boiler is a major part of an improvement program which will cost an estimated $835,000.

The low bidder was the Union Iron Works of Erie, Pa., $327,112.

Other bids were submitted by Wickes Boiler Co. of Saginaw, Mich., $359,200; Babcock and Wilcox Co. of Pittsburgh, $370,097; Erie City Iron Works of Erie, $377,720; Henry Vogt Machine Co., of Louisville, Ky., $385,717, and E. Keeler Co. of Williamsport, Pa., $425,000.

Bids also were opened for auxiliary equipment.

No contract was awarded. Service Director George McGuckin and Mayor Robert Harding constitute the board of control which will let the contract.

Canada

disarmament measures can be secured under proper safeguards."

Kennedy and Diefenbaker reaffirmed their desire for negotiating at Geneva "a truly independent and neutral Laos." Both Canada and the United States are participating in the Laos conference at Geneva, and Canada is a member of the three-nation commission assigned to supervise a cease-fire between Communists and pro-Western royalists in Laos itself.

Diefenbaker and Kennedy agreed that effective control machinery represents "a key element in a settlement of the Laos situation and an essential ingredient in achieving peace and stability in southeast Asia."

On other points the two leaders: Re-stated their confidence in the United Nations, declared the negotiation of a nuclear test ban treaty with effective measures for inspection was a basic step toward disarmament, agreed that such projects as the organization for economic cooperation and development and the development assistance group would enable the two countries to coordinate their policies of aid to underdeveloped nations, and emphasized their interest in promoting employment and expanding world trade.

In his address to Parliament in a speech to Parliament Wednesday, Kennedy held out the prospect of an atomic-armed naval force jointly controlled by all NATO governments provided the alliance members first strengthen their conventional, non-nuclear forces.

The President said NATO's conventional and nuclear forces must both be increased so that "no aggressor will mistake our determination to respond instantly with whatever force is appropriate."

He urged Canada to assume added responsibility for the defense and economic betterment of the entire Western Hemisphere, not just North America. He encouraged Canada to join the Organization of American States. Canadian agreement was not forthcoming.

On the matter of OAS membership, it was understood that Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker informed Kennedy during a long private conversation that his government had come to no decision yet.

Diefenbaker also reportedly advised Kennedy that his government is fully aware of the benefits of foreign aid. But he declined to commit Canada at this time to step up assistance to Latin America and underdeveloped nations elsewhere.

man staggered from the ward, bleeding profusely and calling for help.

Mrs. Fuller, the supervisor, went into the ward, found Newton on the floor and White brandishing a large pocket knife.

White stabbed Mrs. Fuller, ran into the occupational therapy room, where he stabbed Mrs. Gordon and Voigt, and then into the south wing, where he cut Mrs. Porter on the throat.

Several male patients then jumped White and wrestled him into a sun room.

When White refused to surrender officers fired a tear gas shell and a policeman fired two pistol shots, wounding White in the hand that held the knife.

White changed the knife to the other hand. An officer then fired a shotgun blast, wounding White in the arm. He dropped the knife and the officers rushed in and grabbed him.

country which all participants in the conference can accept; (2) an effective control machinery to supervise Laotian neutrality; (3) an economic aid program for the Buddhist kingdom that would be administered by neutral Southeast Asian countries.

Gromyko went along with the general objectives but Western diplomats objected to several features of the Soviet plan.

Confab

ter John G. Diefenbaker. That was the first public word from the White House beyond Salenger's earlier statements this week that there were no plans for such a conference "at present."

Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday that the President had a conference with Khrushchev "under consideration" and that the final decision was up to the President.

Press dispatches from Moscow quoted Western diplomats there as saying that a meeting was certain and predicting that it would be held at Vienna June 3 or 4.

Information available here was that according to plans already developed the President would arrive in Vienna from Paris June 3 and remain there until sometime June 4. The time schedule apparently would allow for several long talks between him and Khrushchev.

Diplomatic authorities here say that Kennedy does not envision the Khrushchev conferences as a negotiation nor does he contemplate trying to reach firm agreements on critical world issues.

He apparently does wish to make a strong personal appeal to Khrushchev to modify the Soviet position in the deadlocked U.S.-British-Soviet negotiations at Geneva on banning nuclear weapons tests.

Unless there is some change in the Geneva conference it is threatened with collapse in a few weeks. Officials say privately that Kennedy would then be under heavy pressure to order a resumption of U.S. nuclear weapons tests.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

'Inductive Reasoning' vs. Ills

Here are two more examples of successful application of my suggested Sherlock Holmes method of diagnosis and indicated treatment through what the detective called "inductive reasoning."

Dr. H. T. Hyman

"Immediately, I began to have trouble in breathing at night, making sleep impossible. I was unable to use nasal sprays but they did me no good. My only relief came from walking the floor with the windows open, despite the cold.

"After reading your column, I decided to experiment and I purchased a blanket, 100 per cent acrylic and nonwool. I did this because I recalled that, years ago, I had shown an allergy to a detergent that produced an itching rash on my face and arms.

"The first night under my new blanket, I slept nine hours without waking. And the second and third restful nights assured me that the wool blankets must have caused my trouble. I restored the heirlooms to the attic and have been comfortable ever since."

THE SECOND OF THESE correspondents, a 70-year-old factory superintendent, developed headaches, fatigue and a sense of depression some five years ago. He visited a prominent diagnostic clinic where he was told he had "no organic disease but merely a nervous condition and a severe depression." Electric shock treatments were recommended and refused because of advanced age.

Returning to his family doctor, he decided "to try to battle out of the depression by continuing to work so as to keep my mind off myself." To assist him, tranquilizers were prescribed.

Over the course of the next years, our correspondent faithfully took at least eight different tranquilizers that he lists and others whose names he could not recall. Fearful of a further recommendation to submit to shock treatments, he took tranquilizer after tranquilizer although, to his original complaints, he now added dizziness and a lack of muscular control of his legs.

He had just about decided that "life seemed hardly worthwhile" when his attention was attracted to my column on "detective diagnosis." He stopped taking tranquilizers and has concluded that he believes he is "on the right track since my headaches are not so severe, my legs are getting stronger and I can see a great change in my outlook, though I suppose it will take some time to get back to normal."

The public is welcome to the outdoor exercises, but in the event weather forces the program to be moved to the high school by ticket only because of the limited seating. The Class of 1961 numbers 72, largest in the school's history. Last year's class totaled 70 graduates.

Following are the students and the addresses which they will present: Ruth Perrine, "An America That Values the Individual"; John Fallot, "An America That Cares"; Otis Vestfals, "An America That Has a Sense of Justice"; and Harold Atkinson, "An America That Offers Opportunity."

the board of education, will award the diplomas. Neil Joebchen is president of the senior class; Dennis Miller, vice president; Carol Lower, treasurer, and Jean Bell, secretary.

Former Foes Unite Against U.S.

Castro, Trujillo Call Off Underground Caribbean War

NEW YORK—The two leading dictators of the Western Hemisphere, Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, have agreed to call off their underground Caribbean war and to enter into a non-aggression pact in face of rising pressure from the United States and other American Republics.

There have been rumors of such a development for several weeks. Reliable reports from Havana, Ciudad Trujillo and Washington now give credence to the rumor.

Until recently Trujillo, the oldest dictator in the world, and Castro, the newest, were the most bitter enemies, constantly plotting each other's death or downfall. Now they pretend that nothing had ever happened between them and vie only in their claims as to which was the first to establish a socialist state in the Western Hemisphere.

On May Day, when Castro formally declared Cuba to be a Socialist Republic, the Dominican radio went on the air with a claim that "Trujillismo was 'the vanguard of socialism.'"

The non-aggression pact between the two Caribbean dictators recalls the nonaggression pact between two former European dictators, Hitler and Stalin.

Facts of Convenience

Both pacts were concluded between enemies who entered into temporary agreements of convenience so as to be in a better position to meet their common enemies. In both cases the common enemies were members of the Western coalition.

The Castro-Trujillo pact is reported to have been concluded earlier this year.

Under the terms of the arrangement, each dictator promises to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of the other. In other words, each dictator promises to abandon his efforts to overthrow the other.

This involved dismantling subversive underground movements in each other's country, disbanding military units which had been prepared to invade each other's territory and dropping radio propaganda warfare directed against each other's population.

Upon conclusion of the agreement, Castro imprisoned all the Dominican exiles whom he had been helping in Havana to organize an invasion of the Dominican Republic, and Trujillo imprisoned Cuban exiles, associates of deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista, whom he had been helping in Ciudad Trujillo to organize an invasion of Cuba.

There are different versions as to whether the pact was entered into verbally at a meeting of emissaries of the two dictators or whether a written document was drafted and signed.

Oscar Pinto Santos, Cuban ambassador to Communist China, was mentioned as the envoy who was dispatched by Castro to Ciudad Trujillo to prepare the ground for the pact.

In Washington, American officials said they were convinced that there has been a get-together between the Castro and Trujillo regimes.

More Than Happenstance

They observed that the following is not happenstance:

1. In recent months "Radio Caribe," Trujillo's official radio, has been openly expressing admiration of Castro and his methods, interspersing violent attacks against the United States. Its terminology is similar to that used by Moscow and satellite broadcasts.

2. "El Caribe," Trujillo's official newspaper, also been expressing admiration for Castro's success and methods, with terminology again along established Communist lines.

In Havana, Juan Orta, former intimate friend and private secretary to Castro, confirmed the existence of the Castro-Trujillo agreement just before he deserted the regime and took asylum in a Latin American embassy.

Mr. Orta made the disclosure to a Cuban friend during a meeting in Castro's office. He deserted shortly before the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba last month.

Official circles in Haiti, which is on the same island with the Dominican Republic, are reported to be deeply disturbed by the Castro-Trujillo pact, especially in view of rumors that the two Caribbean dictators may now work together to bring down the Haitian government and install one more to their liking.

Trujillo began flirting with Castro and the Communist countries to spite the United States following the conference of American

UP FROM THE DEEP — For 333 years this warship rested on the bottom of Stockholm harbor. Salvagers raised her and the ship will be conserved as a floating museum. The vessel was the Wasa, King Gustavus Adolphus' flagship, which sank on her maiden voyage in 1628 with 500 aboard.

Foreign Ministers at San Jose, Costa Rica, last August.

At that time the American Republics, besides censuring Cuba, recommended diplomatic and economic sanctions against the Trujillo regime in retaliation for its attempt to assassinate President Romulo Betancourt and overthrow his Venezuelan government.

Ironically, Castro instructed his envoy at the conference to vote with the other American republics in favor of sanctions against Trujillo.

U.S. News Services Dropped

The Dominican dictator initiated his romance with the Communist world by replacing United States news services with Prensa Latina, a news agency established by Castro and associates of Juan Domingo Peron deposed Argentine dictator and a Soviet news service.

Incidentally, President Betancourt, now the common foe and target of the two Caribbean dictators, expelled Prensa Latina from Venezuela.

In its broadcast, declaring Trujillismo "the vanguard of Socialism," Radio Caribe said: "Today for the first time on the American continent and thanks to the Cuban revolution of Fidel Castro, the day of the workers is being celebrated in Cuba with all the dimensions of the Red Square of Moscow; and this represents a big slap in the face of the Yankees who had never wanted to allow any movement directed toward the realization of popular aspirations."

Then it added boastfully: "All this is old in the Dominican Republic. When the socialist movement began taking on strength in the Soviet Union, placing the people's interest above that of privileged minorities, imperialism and colonialism, in this nation of the Caribbean, in this proud and dignified Dominican Republic, a system of government devoted to vindication of national life, to protection of the worker and peasant was already in full swing.

"The great social revolution which lifted the republic from disorder and poverty had already started because under the motto of social dignity which this day of the worker represents in the most advanced nations of the world, the doctrines of Trujillismo had already been instituted."

Welfare Dept. Adds One Child to Rolls

LISBON — The Columbiana County Welfare Department added one child to its rolls in April, according to Robert Bycroft, the county welfare director.

The department started out April 1 with 201 children and received 13 more during the month making a total of 214. During the month 12 children were released, leaving 202 children beginning May 1.

A breakdown shows 180 children are in foster homes, 14 with relatives, three with parents and five in institutions, Bycroft said.

Alliance, Boardman Favored In Class "AA" Meet Friday

Frazier To Duel Call in Hurdles

32 Teams, Over 500 Athletes Entered; 3 Records Threatened

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

At least 32 teams, enough to qualify the first four places in each event for the state meet in Columbus May 26-27, will take part in the Class AA Northeastern Ohio District track and field eliminations at Salem's Reilly Stadium Friday.

Unlike last year when Paul Warfield, Marvin Howard and Co. from Warren Harding spread-eagled the field, this year's district meet figures to be a wide-open affair.

The Alliance Aviators, boasting possibly the finest track team in that school's history, looms as the favorite with the Boardman Spartans, led by talented Harold "Bud" Frazier, providing the strongest opposition.

WARREN HARDING lost most of its fine runners from last year but the Panthers have come on strong in recent meets and could pull a few surprises here Friday. Salem, especially if injured Ron Janovec is ready to run, should be strong enough to finish in the top five.

Fred Cope of Salem, the meet manager, reports that more than 500 athletes are entered in the district meet. They will come from the following schools:

Alliance, Badger, Beaver Local, Boardman, Campbell Memorial, Canfield, Crestwood, East Palestine, Fairless, Fitch, Girard, Howland, Kent Roosevelt, Kent State, Leavittsburg, Marlinton, Newton Falls, Niles, Poland, Ravensna, Salem, Southeast.

STRUTHERS, Warren Harding, Youngstown Chaney, East, Cardinal Mooney, North, Rayen, South, Ursuline and Wilson. Cope reports that there is a chance that Hubbard may also enter a team.

The top individual scorer of the meet should be Boardman's Frazier who is entered in both hurdles events and the 220-yard dash and is favored to win all three. Frazier did not run the high hurdles in the district meet last year but he did finish second to Warfield in the 180 lows and second to Howard in the 220.

Frazier's best time in the high hurdles this year is 14.7. Herb Call, the undefeated Columbiana County champion hurdler from Salem, has run the highs in 15.2 but hasn't been pushed. Dick Rindfuss of Niles has a 15.3 clocking. Frazier has a good chance of breaking the low hurdles record here Friday. His best time of the year is 19.1. Glen Davis, the Barborton High, Ohio State and Olympic star, ran the lows in 19.5 to set the district mark here in 1954. Call's best time in the lows is 21.5.

FRAZIER HAS RUN the 220-yard dash in 22.1, well under the record of 21.9 set last year by Howard.

Errol Prisky of Kent State High owns the best time this year in the 100-yard dash. He has a 10.1 clocking. He placed fifth here last year at 10.5. Rick Kincaid of Boardman also has been around 10.1.

Favored to win the mile is Phil Brooks of Crestwood whose best time is 4:28, just over the record of 4:27.1 set last year by Warren Harding's George Tracy.

The 440 should boil down to a race between Nat Hawthorne of Alliance (50.3), George Smith of Struthers (51.1) and Bob Hill of Boardman (51.2).

Alliance is also strong in both relay events. The Aviators' mile relay team of Charlie King, Al Crowder, Glenn Hill and Hawthorne have toured the four laps in 3:31. Their half mile relay team of Hugh Wilson, King, Jim LaFontaine and Hill has been clocked in 1:33.6.

CHARLIE KING is the Aviators' all-state football star. He recently returned to action on the track after suffering a spike wound in a toe at the Bellaire Relays. Right after returning to action King ran a 10.2 100-yard dash.

Jim Davidson of Alliance (161.8) and Carey Brown of Youngstown East (161.54) should be all to themselves in the discus. Their best marks this year are both better than the district record of 158.5 set in 1958 by George Johnson of Warren.

Joe Houstean of Youngstown has thrown the shot 57.9 this year which is the best mark in the state. Jim Davidson of Alliance has tossed the iron ball 54-3 1/2 and Salem's Janovec holds the Quaker record at 51-5 1/2. The district record of 55-9 is held by Tony Conkle of East Palestine.

Dick Rindfuss of Niles is the favorite in the broad jump. He has made 21-8 1/2. Mike Durbin of Beaver Local has gone 21-0 but he has not been consistent. Sam Longmire of Alliance also has been over the 20-foot mark.

SALEM'S CHIEF HOPE for a victory here Friday is in the pole vault where Rick Sulea holds the best mark in the district. He cleared 12-1 1/4 to win the Columbiana County meet. Dan Bard of Alliance has cleared 11-6.

The two best half milers appear to be Jim Cleary of Cardinal Mooney (2:01.3) and Rich Sygar of Niles (2:01.4). George Horne of Leavittsburg looks like a pretty sure bet to defend his high jump title. Horne won easily here last year at 6-1 1/4. His best jump this year has been 6-2.

If all these thinclads repeat their best marks of the year, district records will fall in the shot, discus and low hurdles.

The meet will get under way at 2 p.m. The evening session is scheduled to start at 7:30.

Braves Nipped 2-1 by Dodgers

Pirates, Giants, Reds Are Victors

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Dodgers once more beat Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's superb southpaw, as they defeated the Braves 2-1 Wednesday night on a bases-loaded walk in the 11th inning. That left the Dodgers in a virtual second place tie with Pittsburgh; Cincinnati, all three games behind San Francisco in the National League race.

The Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 with two ninth-inning runs, Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 4-3 and Cincinnati dropped Philadelphia 2-1.

Spahn (4-3), who hasn't beaten the Dodgers in their own park in 13 years, walked four, struck out seven and allowed nine hits. He had them shut out on five hits until Norm Sherry, playing his first game since April 20 because of injury, hit a home run leading off the seventh inning.

The Dodgers didn't get another hit until the 11th, but it was a leadoff triple by Frank Howard and chased Spahn. Moe Drabowsky relieved and intentionally walked two men, loading the bases. Then Seth Morehead came on for the Braves, and after striking out pinch hitter Bob Aspromonte, he walked pinch hitter Bob Lillis on a 3-2 pitch, forcing in the tie-breaking run.

The Giants, out-hit 13-5, put away their eighth one-run decision among their 20 victories in the same fashion as the Dodgers—when losing reliever Don Elston (5-2) of the Cubs walked pinch hitter Jim Marshall with the bases full.

Smoky Burgess drove in three of the Pirates' runs, bringing home the clincher with a two-run double in the fifth off Ernie Broglio of the Cards. Wilmer Mizell (3-1) won it.

The Reds had just three hits, all off John Buzhardt (0-4), but paired two of them with a walk and Vada Pinson's sacrifice fly for both runs in the third inning. Frank Robinson's double brought in the deciding run. Bob Purkey (4-1) won it.

Greenford Strong In Hurdles

3-Team Race Shapes Up For Inter-County Meet

A wide-open battle for the Inter-County League track and field crown is expected when the loop's six schools get together in the annual meet Friday afternoon at McDonald.

McDonald, Lowellville, and Greenford figure to fight it out for the top spot with North Lima and Fairfield-Waterford as dark horses. The only school which figures to be pretty much out of the running for the title this year is Western Reserve.

GREENFORD'S strength will be in the hurdles where sophomore Dave Tyo and senior Kenny Wellendorf stand a good chance of finishing one-two in both the 120 highs and the 180 lows.

Mike Pahanish of Fairfield-Waterford should finish no worse than third in the highs on the strength of his fifth place showing in that event in the District's 'A' meet Tuesday at Salem.

BOB PRATT, who was named the most valuable player in both the district and Mahoning County 'A' meets, looks like a sure winner in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and he could possibly take the discus if he can outthrow Scarborough of McDonald.

North Lima, who qualified both of its relay teams for the state meet, will be the favorite in those events Friday. Greenford could put up an argument in the mile relay.

FAIRFIELD - WATERFORD'S big hopes lie on Gary Slaven in the broad jump and Tom Messenger in the 440. Both are capable performers.

Cari Newhouse of McDonald won the high jump in the District 'A' meet at 5-7 1/2 and should have little trouble repeating in the Inter-County meet.

Alderfer of McDonald is favored in the mile and Weaver of North Lima looks like the best half miler in the league.

Bob Petrla of Greenford and Ed Dolsak of McDonald are the top pole vault contenders.

Salem's Davidson To Play In Ohio Grid, Cage Games

Salem's All-Ohio end, Don Davidson, who was named an alternate on the North squad for the annual Ohio All-Star football game to be played in Canton next August, has been moved up to the regular squad, Quaker coach Blaine Morton, learned yesterday.

Davidson will replace another player who has to pass up the All-Star game since he has been selected for one of the military academies.

The Salem senior also has been selected to play in the Ohio All-Star basketball game at Cuyahoga Falls this summer. Davidson made the all-state first teams in both football and basketball at Salem this past school year.

$4,000 Handicap Race at Ascot

C. T. Taylor's Deep Diamond, beaten a nose for the 1960 "speedball" championship by four-time winner Pine Echo, is a probable starter, along with Western Book, Senorita Gal, Mrs. Lillian Bayliff's Brud and Walnut Hill Farm's Sir Putnam in Saturday's $4,000 Ascot Speed Handicap at 4 1/2 furlongs.

The final seven days of Ascot action are crammed with activity. Thursday is Appreciation Day with patrons admitted free to the grandstand. Armed Forces Day will be observed Friday. Races on the card will be named for orphans of the service. Military personnel, in uniform, will be admitted free as guests of Ascot management.

Saturday is "Speed Ball Day" with the Speed Handicap titlist determined. Monday, May 22, is St. Thomas Hospital Building Fund Day. Admissions will be donated to the Woman's Board of the hospital as part of its contribution to the building addition.

Closing day also will see the running of the Silver Cup handicap. Eligible to start in this 1-5-16th mile marathon are horses which qualified for the Gold Cup, with exception of the Gold Cup winner of last Saturday, Snoozie.

Old Dutch, Stepanic's Win Softball Contests

Industrial Mining, Old Dutch and Stepanic's Tavern posted wins in first round action in Class AA softball at Kelley Park Wednesday night.

Pitcher Paul Welsh of Industrial Mining turned in a neat two-hitter to help his teammates to an easy 6-1 win over Shaffer Ford. Shortstop Bob Adams, first baseman J. Siefke and center fielder Bob Hartman each collected two hits for the winning cause.

The losers' run came on a walk, an error and a single by first baseman Don Brudery. Brudery also got the only other hit off Welsh, a double in the seventh inning.

Old Dutch, behind the two-hit pitching of Hank Miller, coasted to a 6-0 shutout over Demings.

Shortstop Jim Weizenecker and third baseman Roesti got two hits apiece in the Old Dutch seventh attack. Wayne Hahn, Deming shortstop, got a single and a double for the only Deming hits. Both teams displayed sloppy fielding, with Old Dutch committing five errors and Demings four.

Stepanic's Tavern broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning with a run and the game from Herron Transfer 3-2. Both teams had scored twice in the first inning.

Eight players contributed at least one hit to the winner's nine-hit attack. Herron's was limited to only four hits by winning pitcher Stonemetz.

Locke, Latman Allow 6 Hits As Tribe Beats Red Sox

Power Nets Only Run on Close Play

BOSTON (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, who seem to alternate good pitching and lousy hitting—both hardly ever coming in the same game—owe their latest victory to two pitchers who were pre-season question marks, and the keen deductive powers of Manager Jimmie Dykes.

Bobby Locke, who got credit for Wednesday's 1-0 win over the Red Sox, had to pitch well, as he faced Boston's most consistent winner, Bill Monbouquette. Monbo lived up to his reputation, but Cleveland made the most of its six hits.

It was the second shutout by Cleveland pitchers this year—both by 1-0 scores.

Locke went into the game with an 0-0 record, but carried the Indians' highest earned run average—7.94 in 5 2-3 innings. That fact, plus the questionable physical condition of his arm, seemed to make things a bit uncertain for Cleveland.

But he was more than adequate for 6 2-3 innings. He struck out two, walked two and scattered six hits.

Dykes yanked Locke in the seventh after he walked Chuck Schilling on four straight pitches. "I thought something must be wrong," said Dykes in the clubhouse after the game. "Locke doesn't walk a guy on four straight pitches. And I was right. Locke said his arm was okay, but that he couldn't get anything on the ball."

Barry Latman took over and put a high polish on the day's mound performance. He pitched hitless ball the remaining 2 2-3 innings.

Latman's excellent relief job—his third straight—raised the question of whether he is headed for a regular starting assignment.

"He'll get spot starts and he'll be moved up if one of the boys in our regular rotation falters," said Dykes.

Vic Power scored Cleveland's run and he was safe at home by an eyelash. He scored on a double play that almost turned into a triple play.

Power led off the fifth inning with a double and took third on Willie Kirkland's single. John Romano then bounced to Frank Malone and the third baseman started an around-the-horn double play. Power broke for home and just beat first baseman Pete Runnels' throw to the catcher.

The Sox protested the safe call vehemently.

Cleveland plays an exhibition game at Cincinnati tonight before starting a two-game home series against the New York Yankees Friday night. Cleveland 000 010 000—1 6 1 Boston 000 000 000—0 6

UGH! — There can be no mistaking six-year-old Melissa Price's attitude toward earthworms. She isn't quite sure the joys of fishing hard by Columbia, S.C., or anywhere else, are really worth the anguish of baiting a hook.

BOXING BILLED AT CANTON

Cliff Johnson and Charles McCreary will headline a six-match 32-round professional boxing program at the Canton Memorial Auditorium Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. Ronnie McConnell, Jimmy Hartzell, Grant "Moose" Downing and Harold Combs are also on the card.

Don Wukotich Homers Twice

Salem Merchants Hand Leetonia 10-4 Defeat

Third sacker Don Wukotich baged out four straight hits, including a pair of homers, in leading the Salem Merchants to a 10-4 victory over Leetonia in a County-City League game played at Centennial Park last night.

Lynn Barnett hurled for Salem and limited Leetonia to just five hits. He fanned seven and walked only one. Bush and Ernie Rutsky accounted for two hits apiece

Donkey Ball Game Scheduled at Minerva

The West Township Ruritans will take on the United Little League managers in a Donkey ball game at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Minerva Athletic Field.

Members of the managers team include Ronnie Sixt, Dannie Reeder, Jim Summer, Benny Morgan, Donald Smith, Bill Engle, Don McCord, Bob Carter, Gary Curtin, Junior Miller and William Grindle.

Playing for the Ruritans will be Sam Blevins, Dutch Haynam, Eugene Snively, Robert Cogan, Leroy Harsh, Austin Blevins, Robert Boord, John Hormel, Lee Haynam, Leo Davis and Art Cowden.

Art Hole and Loren Ruff will serve as stretcher bearers, Wilbur Hirst will be waterboy and Bob Lippincott the clown.

Brother of Salem Coach to Defend MAC Shot Title

Paul LaSpina, Miami University junior who is the defending Mid-American Conference shot put champion and a top threat in the discus this year, is a brother of Sebastian LaSpina, assistant football and track coach at Salem High School.

Paul LaSpina has thrown the shot 54 ft. 10 1/4 in. this year and has turned the discus loose for 156 ft. 11 1/4 in.

Sebastian LaSpina also was a star weight man at Miami University a few years back.

The Mid-American Conference meet will be held this weekend at Bowling Green.

Cincinnati Elder Wins Baseball Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Elder's perennial state high school baseball champions won their fifth consecutive southwestern Ohio regional title Wednesday night and advanced to the May 26-27 Columbus finals and a chance to win their fourth straight Class AA crown.

The Panthers edged Dayton Meadowdale 3-2 and then crushed Harrison 12-0 to take the regional championship. In the first game of the tripleheader at Crosley Field, Harrison had downed North-eastern 3-2.

Figured As 6-5 Favorite

Carry Back Gets Nod In Preakness

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carry Back will be bucking bigger odds Saturday than the Preakness betting board shows because of winning the Kentucky Derby.

He's figured today to be around a 6-5 favorite against the seven other 3-year-olds listed as probable entries. His Derby victory May 6 goes a long way in shaping the calculation.

But in the background lurks the records showing Derby winners of the recent past aren't such good bets in the Preakness.

Since 1945, 11 have tried, and only three succeeded in taking the first two legs of the triple crown. On the other hand, seven colts who finished second in the Derby during the same 15 years came to Baltimore and topped the Preakness.

Crozier's backers should take heart from this. He lost the Derby by less than a length to Carry Back. That was a mile and quarter race. The Preakness distance is a sixteenth shorter.

Besides Crozier, Dr. Miller, Sherluck and Globemaster will be trying to do in the Preakness what they couldn't in the Derby against Carry Back. The newcomers to the triple crown circuit which ends June 3 at Belmont, are Hitting Away, Crimson Fury and Orleans Doge.

Jack Price, trainer and breeder of Carry Back, is especially anxious to win the Preakness. If he doesn't, he won't have even a chance at the Belmont.

He promised a long time ago to run Carry Back in the Jersey Derby which is only four days before the Belmont's grueling mile and a half. Price's New Jersey commitment will be forgotten if Carry Back can take the Preakness, so he may have a shot at becoming the first triple crown winner since Citation in 1948.

The only colt since then to win the first two legs was Tim Tam, who finished second in the Belmont in 1958.

NO CHANGE—Gene Sarazen is 59, but the Little Roman still wears plus-fours and nurses putts as he did while winning golf tournaments.

Competition In 3 Divisions

Varied Racing Program Billed at Canfield Saturday

Three features will headline a variety of racing action at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

The late models will be back for a 25-lap feature, the amateurs will duel in a 20-lapper, while the foreign sports cars will be making their 1961 debut with another 20-lap feature.

In all, nine races will be offered over the quarter-mile track. Race time is 8:30 p.m. with time trials at 7.

Bill Forney of Youngstown, the 1960 Canfield late model champ, proved last week that he still has the skill and the car as he "blew" off an outstanding field of drivers. Forney gained two victories and edged out Jim Bickertstaff of Youngstown in the feature. Bickertstaff won a heat race, while Frank Myers of Warren topped the Australian pursuit.

Chuck Dougherty of Lowellville captured Canfield's first amateur race, defeating a field of 17 other

Tigers Trip Orioles; Nats Edge Yanks

Unbeaten right-hander Phil Regan won his fourth with a six-hitter Wednesday night as the Detroit Tigers completed a three-game sweep at Baltimore with a 9-1 victory. That gave Detroit a five-game bulge, largest of the season, in the American League after Washington knocked off second place New York 8-7.

Cleveland defeated Boston 1-0 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Regan, who was 0-4 as a rookie just one man and struck out three. He lost a shutout in the fourth inning, when Brooks Robinson hammered a home run for a 16-game hitting streak.

The Tigers clubbed the Orioles to their fifth straight defeat with 15 hits, two by Al Kaline, who had a triple and a double and drove in three runs. Kaline's triple broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth against loser Jack Fisher (1-4). Washington built an 8-1 lead against the Yankees with Dale Long's two-run double supplying the final cushion in the seventh inning. Starter Art Ditmar (2-2) was the loser. Left-hander Pete Burnside (1-2) won his first with relief help.

Salem Frosh Thinclads Roll Over East Palestine 67-34

Salem's freshmen thinclads ended their season Wednesday afternoon at East Palestine with a 5-2 mark on a heavy 67-34 win. However, the local lightweight and heavyweights suffered losses of 31 2-5-34 3-5 and 28 1-3-57 2-3 respectively to their East Palestine counterparts.

The local ninth graders garnered seven first place wins in the 12 events in the meet. Tom Bauman was the big gun for the winners, with three first place victories. He took the 220 with a run of 25.7 seconds, the discus with a toss of 105-2 1/4 feet and the broad jump with a 16 3/4 effort.

In the lightweight meet, Salem was able to get only one first place in the 10 events contested, this one a record breaker for all three Salem entries.

In the pole vault event, Dick Brown, Pete Kautzman and Bill Lau all cleared distances of 7-6 to better the old record of 6-6 among local lightweight.

Kirk Ritchie and Gary Stoddard pushed across most of the Salem lightweight points, with Ritchie taking second places in the 120-yard hurdles, the shot put and the broad jump, and Stoddard taking seconds in the 440 and discus.

In the heavyweight class, Salem managed three firsts in the 10 events contested.

Jeff McArtor won the shot put when he broke his record of a week ago with a new toss of 45-7 1/2. His earlier record had been 43-4 1/2.

Dick Ehrhart took a first in the 120-yard hurdles with a time of 16.2, and Harold Schramm was first across the line in the 440 in 59.7 seconds.

The track season will continue for the lightweight and heavyweights May 25 on the Salem track when the locals entertain United Local.

Dream Pal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody has a dream pal. I have one, too. I call him George Rustproof.

If science really wants to do something for mankind, it will quit worrying about the problems of outer space, and do something about those of inner space.

It will do something about removing the pressures of civilization that weigh on us all. And the best way I can think of for science to do that is to create millions and millions of George Rustproofs—at least one for every home.

Just who is this George Rustproof? What is he like?

Well, George is my dream version of the genie that sprang to attention whenever Alladin rubbed his magic lamp. He is a metal slavey, a robot if you will, but a collection of animated wires, nuts and bolts loyal to your every purpose.

George is the kind of true-blue friend everyone yearns for from birth. He may be only an electronic buddy, but if you just change his batteries once a month that's all he asks. He never borrows money.

George isn't the kind of buddy who asks favors. He's the kind that isn't happy unless he's doing something to make you happy. His motto is: "Let George do it."

If you wake up in the morning feeling tired, George carries you gently to the bathroom, shaves you, then dresses you and stuffs a little spending money in your pocket. He's the ideal valet.

Better than that, he's also the ideal maid. He'll do all your wife's housework, run her errands, talk to her, listen to her, then gallantly escort her out in the evening if you'd rather stay home.

If the children don't want to go to bed on time, George doesn't argue with them. He simply picks them up by the scruff of their neck, brushes their teeth—and tosses them bodily into their bunks.

At parties George mixes and serves the perfect martini, then politely but firmly throws out into the hall any guest who asks for a third one for the road.

George is also ready at any time, whenever you're feeling blue, to sit down and let you tell him the long sad story of your life. His little red button eyes gleam with affectionate appreciation. Now and then he runs around, pats you on the back and murmurs huskily, "Gee, Buddy, how can one man put up with so much and still keep smiling through?"

PIGGYBACK PREDECESSOR — There may be something new under the sun, but sometimes it's hard to find it. Take piggyback transportation of vehicles, which railroads have concentrated on in recent years. Way back in 1917, Army trucks were moving along Southern Pacific Co. lines in Louisiana in the manner shown in top photo. Below, modern three-level "auto-pack" permits 15 compact or 12 standard-size autos to be loaded on a flatcar. The 83-foot-long unit has three to four times the capacity of a boxcar.

If George has a fault, it is this: You have to watch him to keep him from turning over the television set and trying to choke it to death. But this is because he thinks it is a rival trying to take his place.

As I said earlier, George Rustproof is just a dream pal. But lately I find myself dreaming about him more and more.

JFK Lays Position on Line For Meeting with Khrushchev

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — President Kennedy has called upon all the allies of the West to be alert to the possibility of new Communist aggression and to build up their conventional armed forces accordingly. But he seemed to be aiming at more than that.

Much of what he said to the Canadian Parliament Wednesday appeared to be directed at Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the Communist world. He seemed to be laying on the line what the U.S. position will be if he meets Khrushchev next month.

The President seems to want to approach Khrushchev from an attitude of strength, fortified by renewed Allied willingness to close ranks against further Red conquests.

This may be the message he wants to get over to Khrushchev: The United States has been pushed about as far as it can be pushed in Asia, in Latin America, in Germany, in Africa.

The United States wants peace and is willing to talk about it, but remains willing to defend the Western world and determined to rally it to defend itself.

The United States intends to strengthen its own conventional forces and hopes to strengthen those of the Western Allies in case the Communists contemplate more brush-fire wars, such as the Red push in Laos.

The United States intends to keep what forces it now has in Europe and to increase their conventional capabilities, just in case the Communists contemplate something like overrunning West Berlin.

Against the possibility of Soviet nuclear threats to back up conventional thrusts, the President poses the prospect that nuclear weapons will be available to defend the entire Atlantic Treaty area. The United States intends to go ahead with plans to commit to the NATO command Polaris atomic-missile submarines.

Deadly Reckoning: Nation's Highway Toll Is Alarming

More deadly and much more futile than any war this nation has fought in, slaughter on the highways last year alone killed or injured more than 3,116,000 men, women and children. Injuries in 1960 were 7 per cent above 1959; deaths increased by 1 per cent. Total deaths were 38,000; injuries, 3,078,000. Table above lists the major causes of this toll on the part of drivers. Added to the figures in table should be those involving pedestrians, bicyclists, trains, etc.: 7,600 killed, 478,000 injured. None of these tragedies was necessary. Almost all of them occurred because of negligence, carelessness and indifference. Data from Travelers Insurance Companies.
